All wrapped up

I really wouldn't mind getting all wrapped up in these beautiful silk and cashmere pashminas by Candice Wren. There's the sweet and the pretty, the cute and the yummy, plus Candice Wren is a bespoke pashmina label, so you can even request your own customised design. Oh, how do I choose?

Be sure to check out the rest of her designs!

Lovely, so very, very lovely! I'm quite particular about the types of scarves I like (I'm not a fan of the more 80s punk and grunge styles that have been popular for the past few seasons), but seriously love all of the ones you've shown here, especially the strawberry scarf.

Wonderful find, I'm off to check out that link, thank you!

Big hugs!

I adore pashmina - just the ticket in Andalucia this winter! All gorgeous designs here but my own customised one? Perhaps in the mauve color palette of the Lola scent just named after me (have you seen my current post?!?) would be fabulous! Must check out that link now -thank you!

Hope you have a wonderful weekend!
